

2020 Billiards Competition

Players start the competition with a target, as provided by the competition director.

Targets change by two points for a win or loss. Up for a win, down for a loss.

Targets change at the conclusion of each night's play. If a player's target at the beginning of the night is 100, they play to that target for the whole night.

Each game won accrues two points.

If a losing player reaches at least 90% of their target, they accrue one point.
